

First Super Significant Event Notice

1 September 2020

This notice identifies a typographical error contained in the Pension Product Disclosure Statement (PPDS) and Investing Your Super booklet as at 1 April 2020 regarding asset allocation target ranges. A supplemental PPDS and revised Investing Your Super booklet were issued on 18 May 2020.

Pension Product Disclosure Statement – issued 1 April 2020

Investing Your Super (incorporated by reference document) – issued 1 April 2020

On 1 April 2020, we updated our Pension Product Disclosure Statement (PPDS) and Investing Your Super booklet due to changes required from the previous versions as at 1 November 2019.

Unfortunately, the 1 April 2020 versions contained a typographical error in the “Asset Allocation” target ranges for the Shares Plus, Growth, and Conservative Balanced investment options.

This error has in no way impacted the investment option outcomes. However, it is important that we correctly represent the target asset allocation ranges for each investment option so that members can make an informed choice about how to invest their super or pension accounts.

Members who received a printed copy of the 1 April 2020 documents were sent correspondence, including a copy of the Supplemental Pension Product Disclosure Statement that was issued on 18 May 2020 or the updated Investing Your Super booklet revised as at 18 May 2020.

This Significant Event Notice is to alert those members who may have accessed these documents from the First Super website.

We're here to help, so let's talk.
